APPRENTICE NEWS

With winter upon us, weather may have an effect on your class schedule. During inclement weather, if the Tacoma School District is running late or if they have canceled class, we will follow suite. We will also have it on our recording if you call into the office.

At the Electrical Contest held in Boise, Idaho, Ben Doyle competed against 28 other contestants from the states of Alaska, Washington, Idaho, Oregon, California, Utah, Colorado, and Nevada. Ben finished first in the residential project and received $100 for his effort. Overall Ben did an excellent job finishing 4th out of the 28 participants. Thanks again Ben, you represented our program very well!!!!

As an apprentice working in the field, you MUST have a valid trainee card. If you are working without a current trainee card, you are subject to a fine of $500. Check your card to make sure that you are in compliance.

For those of you that do not know, Kathy had a baby boy (Bryson) on October 8th and is on maternity leave until January. Michelle is taking Kathy's place while on leave.

Don't forget to take care of your welding requirement for your raise to 85%. You can take the welding class where ever you want, but we only have a discounted fee at either Bates Technical College (South Campus) or at South Puget Sound C. C.

All the welding gear needed can be checked out for your use at our office.

HAPPY HOLIDAYS
FROM THE JATC STAFF!!!!

TD NEWS

Now available at Bluevolt.com, 4 hour RCW/WAC class for Washington CEU's. The cost of the class is $45, but you will get a discount by using the registration code of ibewwa. If you are in need of this class now you can take it on-line.

We're putting together a class available for Residential Wireman in May called HTI (Home Technology Integrator). The class will be 40 hours in length and require you to take and pass the certification test on-line through Blue-Volt while taking the class. This class will be very limited in size due to limited space. More information will be available at a later date.

Those of you with administrators license's, need to take CEU's for renewals.

If you want to see what CEU classes the state has you down as completed, and/or when your license expires, you can go into our web site, www.swwaejatc.org and then click on JW Classes which will take you to a link which you can click on and check all of your information.
